A Tip From Australia
The restoration of peace time price and rationing control apparently will be a major campaign issue in the forthcoming presidential election. If it is, the people of this country, whether they realize it or not, will be witnessing a debate over the future pattern of government under which they are to live. Permanent price and rationing control mean inexorable extension of centralized authority and the final adoption of the socialized state, whether it is called that or not.

Aside from the danger to personal liberty and other philosophical considerations, price and rationing control, from a practical standpoint, is a demonstrated failure. In every country where it has been tried it has led to shortages and hardships. When prices are arbitrarily below the supply-demand levels of free market, not only do legitimate distribution channels are disrupted by black markets and the police powers of the state become increasingly brutal if order is maintained. The expanding bureaucracy of OPA and its kangaroo court methods were, they were nipped in the bud at the end of the war should serve as fair warning of what can be expected if the system is re-established.

American consumers are getting better service at lower relative prices in the light of existing conditions without OPA than they ever did with it. Congressional investigations have shown that retailers' profit margins are less now in the free market than they were in the controlled market of OPA. Moreover there are no shortages of necessities. America is not the only country that has been faced with the price control issue. Australia recently defeated by a heavy majority vote an attempt by the Central Labor Government to write price control as a permanent power into the Federal Constitution. An observer pointed out that "The Australians do not want permanent centralized Federal Government control of their economic affairs."

val of the patrons, and was also the source of cause of trouble and disturbance. He urged the commission to pass a strong ordinance which would permit this use of liquor within the enclosure at future games. This offense complained of was not due largely to local offenders.

This matter having had commission notice, the collector, prepared such a prohibiting ordinance, which had teeth in it, and same was enacted as an emergency act. Those who like their liquor, had better omit it at the athletic field.

Jack Torrence, Jr., who resides over in Sybil Heights was present to represent the residents of that section who were a constant nag against the pasturing of cattle on the Judge Hubbard lands, and asked for relief from the unpleasant odors arising from the pasture. Commission will consider this complaint for later action.

The reason for the prolonged session was that the Body was considering, discussing and arriving at decisions, as to what should be included in several important ordinances that were or are to be passed.

An ordinance was presented and enacted which set up the rules and regulations and procedure for setting up and amending liquor-sale zones. Another one was to make more clear the meaning of the wording of the Parking meter zones.

Still another one provided that dealers, purchasing more than $50 in punch board license tickets at one time, for cash would be granted a 5 per cent discount.

of his conviction. Lemmie L. Stuckey brought to the Glades a desire to see it bloom and grow into an abundant field of harvest.

His dreams were strengthened by courage and determination, and the will to make them a vivid reality.

Through years of toil and sweat he gave his heart and soul to make this dream come true. And come true it did, for the land around Lake Okechobee is ever green with the many fruits of the soil that he and others like him had the foresight to make possible.

Not only did Lemmie Stuckey know that wholesome vegetables would grow in this rich soil, but he knew, too, that the men who grew them would of necessity have to band themselves together for the success and very livelihood of this fine industry.

It is for this reason that he joined with other growers to form an alliance for the betterment of the vegetable industry. From his pocket came the first thousand dollars to seed the infant "Florida Vegetable Committee" on its way.

His hand was ever present to aid in steering the new organization through a maze of suspicion and doubt. And in 1945 when he was called to serve as its chairman, he willingly took over the many duties and continued to serve not for one term, but for two.

Under his leadership the Florida Vegetable Committee continued to grow in strength and cooperative unity; drawing more and more of the state's vegetable growers to its support.

When his office tenure was over, Lemmie Stuckey remained on the board to lend his wealth of knowledge and experience to the solution of the many new problems that ever arose; and to the future of this important state organization, the following resolution was presented and adopted and made part of the minutes of the session.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS each and every one of us is placed upon this earth to live out to the best of our ability the number of our days;

WHEREAS the fullness of our lives is measured by the deeds we do each day for the betterment of mankind;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED BY THE FLORIDA Fruit and Vegetable Association that we shall stand in silent tribute to one of our members who has preceded us into Eternity, but whose deeds will be over present among us to strengthen us with the courage of him, we who come from

Shrining Chamber of Commerce Give The Glades Area A Boost

The Secretary of the Shrining Chamber of Commerce had occasion to make a trip from his home town to Miami, over Federal Route 27, passing through a portion of our fertile productive Glades area and here is what he wrote about it.

"If you didn't see it yourself, you could hardly believe it, while making our trip, we passed hundreds of acres of the prettiest string beans, which were several inches high. Any part of the country that can produce such crops in so short a time, after a flood period, is bound to lead the list as being the best growing and production area in the entire USA."

"Yes, we saw some water, plenty of it, this was no more than expected, but the hundreds of hundreds of acres of crops was a happy surprise. In spite of the high water there will be big money made by some wide awake farmers to the south of us."

Many Features Will Spice Scottish Rite Reunion Session

One of the features of the reunion will be the special conferring on Saturday night, November 20th., of the 26th degree, known as the "Prince of Mercy" by selected staff, which is new for this consistory.

It is expected that Scottish Rite dignitaries from the five Consistories of the state will be present to join in the work and festivities of the reunion. Meals will be served in the new dining room on the second floor of the temple building.

"EVERYBODY'S THANKFUL FOR AMERICA'S FINEST BUS SERVICE"

Over here we seem to have the most of the good things of life... safe, warm and well fed. There's another thing, too, we can smile about—our great freedom and ease of travel. Greyhound transportation, for example, is just as popular and generally enjoyed as a Thanksgiving turkey. It lets us go everywhere over myriads of routes... when we choose through frequent day and night schedules... and at lower cost than any other form of travel. We can well afford a little thankfulness for this old transportation favorite.

Super Aircraft Carrier Planned by the Navy

This is an artist's drawing of the U. S. Navy's $5,000,000, 45,000-ton, 16,000-horsepower aircraft carrier. Originally proposed by the late Admiral Marc A. Mitscher, the design of this carrier has been under study since October, 1945. Although the basic design and major characteristics of the ship have been fixed, the location of certain structures, such as the stack, elevators and the telescopic bridge, is still under study. The artist's conception reflects the Navy's present plans for the carrier. The latest U. S. Naval vessel to be constructed so far, the ship will measure 139 feet longer on the waterline than the 45,000-ton MIDWAY-class carrier. Her overall length will be 1,090 feet. Her waterline beam will be 129 feet and maximum beam width will be 168 feet. Including temporary structures which may be hinged up or down, the maximum width of the carrier will be 236 feet. Speed will be about 33 knots. (Official Navy Photographs) ket will remain when the beans around 60 cents the hamper.

The negroes seemed anxious to increase their monetary standing, and the merchants were just as willing to receive and accept it in trade line.

Grabber and Son, who farm east of Six Mile Bend, will have had been picking this present week, and radishes will be on their shipping program next week. Other root plants are reported as coming along most satisfactorily.

Altho storm threshed and water soaked, and early plantings of beans drowned out, the Glades area came back in a surprising manner, with a prize yield of quality beans, merchandise which should bring many repeat orders. Hopes are held that the big acreage can be picked and marketed before the frost appears, or a heavy drop in market prices are recorded.

California and Arizona which are direct competitors of Florida in the celery trade, have set up five standard sizes of crates to use this season. They will be known as the 452, 453, 516, 3601, and are actually 16, 18 and 20 inch standard half crates, and the Sturdes and Howard crates. The "cub" crate is eliminated. The arch bulge for celery crates shall be limited to one and five-eighths inches.

Lee Hyman, of the Pioneer Packing Company, as a representative of the Glades Branch of National Wholesale League of Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Distributors was in Washington, D. C. the past week, where he attended a hearing before the ICC on the famous Hartline transportation case out of Detroit. All the distribution associations were fighting vigorously before the Board, to get the prevailing decision set aside, as unjust and unreasonable.

This decision had direct restrictions which affected the entire Florida area. Glades growers are going to to have a new truck outfit for their products, in the new market which has been established in Miami by the Dade County Co-operative Growers. The new market building has been erected to take care of a million population in that metropolitan area. It will have capacity to handle 48 car load and 100 trucks at one time. Labor saving devices have been installed in strategic points. The retail warehouse is not yet ready for operation, but the wholesale buying and sales platforms are ready for use.
